ECE PILOT OFFICIAL GUIDE

WARWICK, RHODE ISLAND

MAY 7TH - 10TH 2026

WELCOME TO THE CONFERENCE THAT TAKES YOU TO NEW HEIGHTS!

We are so excited to officially welcome you to the Early Education Empowerment Conference, where over the next three days we'll be taking off, leveling up, and charting a bold course for the future of early childhood education.

Over the next few days, you can expect powerful keynote sessions, inspiring workshops, meaningful conversations, and real take-home strategies you can use immediately in your programs. From leadership and advocacy to team culture, retention, business growth, and innovation—you'll hear from incredible speakers, connect with passionate educators from all over the country, and be reminded why the work you do truly matters.

This conference is designed to refuel your passion, strengthen your leadership, and surround you with a community that gets it. Whether this is your first time or you're flying with us again, we hope you lean in, ask questions, make connections, and fully enjoy the experience.

Thank you for being part of something truly special. Now buckle up because this is going to be an amazing ride.

With altitude and excitement,

XOXO
Erica and Chris

ABOUT YOUR CAPTAINS

Christine Alexander brings nearly three decades of hands-on expertise in school-age and youth programs. As a multi-site owner, designer, and visionary event planner, Christine knows how to craft meaningful experiences that inspire educators, build community, and leave a lasting impression. She has a unique ability to identify opportunities for growth and implement systems that create sustainable success across multiple sites. Christine's passion for mentorship and leadership development empowers staff to reach their full potential while elevating program quality. Her innovative approach ensures that every program she touches is engaging, impactful, and aligned with best practices in early childhood and after-school education.

Erica Saccoccio, the co-owner of Family Tree Child Care, three thriving childcare centers, each with its own dedicated team, this powerhouse leader manages a large-scale operation known for excellence in early education and impactful leadership. She's also the dynamic host of the Childcare Director's Chair Podcast, where she shares invaluable insights and expert guidance with directors nationwide. A sought-after keynote speaker, she energizes audiences with workshops and professional development sessions designed to inspire and empower teachers and leaders at every level. With unparalleled energy and expertise, Erica guides childcare professionals toward success at every level!

WHY IS THIS CONFERENCE CLEARED FOR TAKEOFF?

BUILT BY REAL ECE LEADERS, FOR REAL ECE LEADERS

This conference is created by people who actively run programs, lead teams, and navigate the same challenges you do every single day. Nothing is theoretical—everything shared is practical, relevant, and grounded in real-life experience.

ACTIONABLE CONTENT YOU CAN USE IMMEDIATELY

Every session is designed with implementation in mind, not just inspiration. Attendees leave with tools, strategies, and conversations they can bring straight back to their programs on Monday morning.

A COMMUNITY THAT ACTUALLY GETS IT

This isn't a room full of strangers—it's a network of educators, directors, owners, and leaders who understand the pressures and passion of this field. The connections made here last long after the conference ends.

ELEVATING ECE AS THE PROFESSIONAL INDUSTRY IT IS

The Early Education Empowerment Conference unapologetically raises the bar for how early childhood education is viewed, valued, and supported. This is about leadership, advocacy, and treating ECE like the essential, professional industry it truly is.

YOUR IN-FLIGHT EXPERIENCE AT EEEEC

- 1. Meaningful Connections with Fellow Educators

Build relationships with leaders, directors, and teachers from across the country who understand the challenges—and triumphs—of early childhood education. Share experiences, swap ideas, and expand your professional circle.
- 2. 8–21 Hours of CELP-Approved PD

Earn valuable continuing education hours while learning practical strategies you can apply immediately in your programs. This is professional growth cleared for takeoff!
- 3. Fun and Stress Relief

Step away from the day-to-day pressures of the trade and recharge your energy. Engaging sessions, interactive activities, and a lively atmosphere will help you land feeling inspired and refreshed.
- 4. Networking with Business-Boosting Companies

Connect with vendors and companies that provide tools, products, and resources to help grow your business, strengthen your core values, and elevate your program to new heights.
- 5. Recognition for Your Hard Work

Celebrate your dedication at our awards ceremony, acknowledging the passion, perseverance, and impact you bring to the early childhood field. Take a bow—you've earned it!

Erica Saccoccio

Leading From the Inside Out: Mindset, Energy, and Impact

Before diving into strategy and operations, this session helps you reset and step into leadership with clarity and intention. Through guided reflection and interactive exercises, you'll explore how your mindset shapes decisions, team culture, and overall success. You'll leave energized, focused, and ready to fully engage in the day's practical sessions.

Co-host & Opening Keynote Speaker Erica Saccoccio

---

Erica Saccoccio is a seasoned early childhood education leader, multi-site childcare owner, advocate, speaker, and author with more than 25 years of experience in the field. As the founder and CEO of a network of high-quality childcare centers in Rhode Island, she champions leadership, positive workplace culture, and community engagement as the cornerstones of sustainable early childhood programs. Erica is a trusted coach and keynote speaker, known for her candid, real-world insights that help directors and educators lead with confidence, strengthen relationships, and elevate their programs. She is the host of The Childcare Director's Chair podcast, a presenter at state and national events, and co-author of Women Excelling Everywhere. Erica's approach blends practical solutions with heart, inspiring others to build strong teams, serve families with excellence, and make a lasting impact in early childhood education.

Keynote

Katie Wooward Young & Carrie Rogers

HR STRATEGIES TO BUILD A HIGH-FLYING TEAM

Every strong childcare program depends on a skilled, committed team. In this workshop, administrators will explore HR strategies that ensure smooth hiring, effective onboarding, and staff retention that keeps your team flying high. Learn how to design clear job roles, streamline recruitment, and implement policies that support professional growth. Leave with actionable tools to strengthen your HR systems and keep your staff motivated, engaged, and ready to reach new heights.

Day 1 Lunch Keynotes Kate Woodward Young & Carrie Casey

---

Kate and Carrie deliver dynamic, engaging, and insightful presentations that inspire leaders to tackle challenges with confidence and humor. Through relatable strategies and practical tools, we empower educators and business owners to streamline tasks, embrace resilience, and achieve success without sacrificing joy or authenticity.

Keynote

ReShaun Webb

Leading Culture with Clarity, Confidence & Care

A thriving childcare center runs like a well-coordinated flight crew, grounded in clear communication, trust, and support. This session teaches directors how to build a “crew lounge” culture where staff feel valued, aligned, and motivated. You’ll gain practical tools to strengthen communication, boost morale, and lead with clarity and warmth.

Day 2 Lunch Keynote ReShaun Webb

ReShaun Webb is a dedicated Early Childhood Educator, coach, and speaker with a passion for empowering teachers, parents, and childcare providers. With a Master’s degree in Early Childhood and Adult Education, ReShaun has made significant contributions as an Early Childhood coach, business owner, and award-winning educator.

ReShaun’s commitment to elevating the field of early childhood education has impacted professionals nationwide, helping them create enriching learning environments that foster the growth and development of every child.

Keynote

Kimberly Krzanowski, Ed.D

WHEELS UP! Launching Early Childhood Leaders from Takeoff to Touchdown

Take flight in this inspiring keynote as we explore how to cultivate leadership in early childhood education. From takeoff to touchdown, discover practical strategies, actionable insights, and leadership lessons that empower teachers to guide young learners, ignite curiosity, and build the next generation of confident, capable leaders.

Day 3 Keynote Speaker Kimberly Krzanowski, Ed.D

---

Dr. Kimberly Krzanowski brings over 20 years of experience in early learning as a former teacher, center administrator, and higher-education leader. She is the Executive Director of the Early Childhood Innovation Center at Delaware State University, where she leads statewide scholarships, career development, and workforce support initiatives. Previously, she served as Executive Director of the Office of Early Learning at the Delaware Department of Education, overseeing Delaware's QRIS, professional development system, compensation policies, and innovative funding strategies. Dr. Krzanowski holds degrees from the University of Delaware and Wilmington University, including a doctorate in Educational Leadership with a focus on innovation in the early childhood workforce.

Keynote

Coach Stacey Byes-Byarse

Show Up, Not Show Out:

A Certified Life Coach, Happiness Coach, and Early Learner Trainer, she helps individuals and teams discover purpose, build confidence, and overcome obstacles that limit growth and joy.

Day 3 Keynote Speaker Coach Stacey B.

Coach Stacey B brings over 20 years of experience in early learning and personal and professional coaching, known nationally as The Happiness Coach for her bold, joyful, and transformational style. A Certified Life Coach, Happiness Coach, and Early Learner Trainer, she helps individuals and teams discover purpose, build confidence, and overcome obstacles that limit growth and joy. Her early childhood work sparked her passion for building meaningful connections with children and families, inspiring her mission to empower people to heal and step into their happiest, most authentic selves. Coach Stacey B hosts the Childcare Teacher Chronicles Podcast and YouTube Channel, leads Beyond the Bell University, and is a multi-passionate entrepreneur with her own boutique and signature fashion-glasses line. Outside her professional work, she enjoys crafting, prioritizes self-care, and loves life as a wife and mother of four. Bold, brave, and joy-filled, Coach Stacey B is a keynote speaker who inspires audiences to reclaim happiness and step into their purpose.

THE EARLY EDUCATION EMPOWERMENT CONFERENCE

INFANT + TODDLER

BRENDA LIMIALDI

Harmony in the Classroom: Music and Mindfulness

Rising dysregulation in young children has increased stress and overwhelm for early childhood educators. In this interactive session, participants will explore the power of music and mindfulness to support children's social-emotional growth while reducing their own stress. Teachers will engage in singing, movement, instrument play, breathwork, guided meditation, and other simple, hands-on activities designed to strengthen self-regulation and executive function skills. Participants will leave with a variety of practical, developmentally appropriate strategies they can implement immediately to create calmer, more joyful classroom environments while prioritizing their own well-being.

TRACY CHENEY

Keep Your Teeth on Your Own Body

This training will explore the myriad of reasons why a toddler may bite and offer solutions of how to prevent and/or appropriately respond to biting, as well as other problematic behaviors, along with offering practical ideas on ways to communicate with parents about biting.

INFANT + TODDLER BREAK OUT SESSIONS

DR. MAHRI WRIGHTINGTON

Tiny Humans, Big Feelings: Practical Strategies for Challenging Behavior

Every challenging behavior tells a story. In early childhood settings, those stories often begin with big feelings, unmet needs, or skills that are still developing. This engaging, practical session helps educators and leaders move beyond reacting to behavior and start responding with confidence and calm. Working with young children is joyful, but it can also be exhausting when big feelings show up as hitting, biting, or refusing to listen. In this session, we'll break down what's really going on underneath those behaviors and share simple, realistic strategies that actually work in busy classrooms. You'll learn how to spot the signs before things escalate, how to keep your own cool when emotions run high, and how to turn tough moments into teachable ones. You do hard, important work every day. Let's make it a little easier - and a lot more peaceful - for you and the children you care for.

TRACY CHENEY

From Coos to Conversations: Growing Language and Literacy Through Responsive Caregiving

Language development happens at lightning speed during the first few years of life—and it grows best through responsive, nurturing interactions. This workshop explores how infants and toddlers develop language and early literacy through everyday moments, relationships, and routines.

THE EARLY EDUCATION EMPOWERMENT CONFERENCE

PRE-K + SCHOOL AGE
BREAK OUT SESSIONS

JONATHAN BREINDIAL “JOLTING JONATHAN”

Ignite the Spark: Bringing Fun and Engagement to Your Classroom

Teaching is more than lessons—it’s about the energy, creativity, and joy you bring into your classroom every day. This interactive workshop explores what it truly means to have fun while teaching, not just for the children but for you as an educator. Learn strategies to create playful, engaging learning experiences that captivate students, spark curiosity, and make every moment memorable. Discover how your own excitement and passion directly impact student retention, engagement, and the overall classroom culture. Leave actionable ideas to reignite your teaching spark and build a classroom where learning is joyful, dynamic, and meaningful—for you and your students alike.

JEREMY STURDIVANT “MR. JAY”

Kidversations

Strong, purposeful communication with children is more important than ever, especially during stressful times like the pandemic when anxiety and grief can affect young learners. In this interactive session, teachers will explore strategies to deepen connections, build trust, and help children feel seen, heard, and supported. Learn practical techniques to turn everyday conversations into powerful moments that strengthen relationships and foster emotional well-being in your classroom.

CARLA WARD

The Power of Connections: The Flight Path of an Educator's Influence

Every day, educators prepare for takeoff—charting the course for a child's day filled with discovery, growth, and connection. In this workshop, we'll explore how the relationships you build with children set the altitude for their learning and emotional well-being. From pre-flight checks like morning greetings and routines to midair course corrections during challenging moments, your influence keeps their journey steady and full of purpose. Together, we'll unpack what it means to guide children with heart, foster strong communities, and ensure every child feels ready to soar.

DR. NICHOLE RICH-BYRNE

The Magic Bag

A Simple Tool to Spark Curiosity and Engagement During Circle Time. Discover how to use the "Magic Bag" strategy to transform circle time into an engaging, language-rich experience for young learners. This playful, low-cost tool invites curiosity, fosters communication, and helps children build connections between daily lessons and the world around them. Participants will leave with practical ideas they can immediately implement in their classrooms.

NOELLE D'INTINO AND ISA PRICE

Behavior Brainstorm: In-Flight Solutions Lab

Step into our In-Flight Solutions Lab, where we take a deep dive into classroom behavior challenges, identify the sources of “turbulence,” and collaborate to design practical strategies that ensure smooth, productive learning experiences. Participants will analyze real classroom scenarios, explore research-informed approaches to social-emotional regulation, and develop actionable solutions teachers can implement immediately. Through hands-on activities, group problem-solving, and guided reflection, this workshop equips educators with the tools to prevent disruptions, support children’s emotional regulation, and create calm, engaging learning environments, helping every day in the classroom feel like a smooth flight from takeoff to landing.

YOLANDA RICHEY

Flight Plan for Positive Behavior Guidance

Prepare for takeoff in this high-energy, research-informed workshop designed to “calm the turbulence” often associated with challenging behaviors. Just like a skilled flight crew ensures a safe and steady journey, early educators play a vital role in creating positive learning environments where young children can fly high! Through playful activities, meaningful reflection, and neuroscience-based strategies, participants are sure to leave this workshop with “clearer skies” that help them prepare for “smooth landings” as they guide behaviors in the most positive and effective ways!

TANGEE PEEK

Soaring to New Heights in ECE education: A data driven approach to small group instruction

Think of each small group as a flight crew and your classroom as the cockpit. Just as pilots use instruments and flight plans to navigate safely, teachers can use data to guide instruction and keep every student on course. By using assessments to identify strengths, gaps, and goals, you can design targeted lessons that meet students where they are. Real-time data lets you adjust your instruction, regroup, or differentiate as needed, just like pilots make course corrections mid-flight. Collaboration with colleagues provides extra guidance, like air traffic control. When used effectively, data becomes your navigation tool, helping you lead every learner confidently to success and make a big impact across your center.

LAURA SHEA AND ADE HOFMAN

Hidden Literacy: Discovering the Unexpected Paths to Reading and Writing

Literacy development is happening all around us, in ways we often don't expect. In this session, Laura Shea and Ade Hofmann will help you uncover the hidden connections between outdoor play and essential pre-writing and pre-reading skills. We'll explore the physical foundations of literacy, from building core strength and crossing the midline to refining the pincer grasp through playful activities like grating chalk or handling tools. You'll learn to notice "print" in abstract objects like sticks, stones, and even shadows—helping children develop symbolic thinking and pattern recognition without ever picking up a worksheet.

From the Classroom to the Command Center: How to Elevate Your Career as a Future Leader

Every great flight begins with preparation and a clear flight plan. If you're ready to move from the passenger seat to the pilot's seat of leadership, this session is your pre-flight checklist. Designed for teachers and support staff eager to take the next step, you'll learn how to translate your classroom expertise into marketable leadership skills, develop new competencies and chart a clear course toward advancement. With a focus on mindset, readiness, and strategy, this workshop ensures you're equipped to soar with confidence when new leadership opportunities arise.

RESHAUN WEBB

Flight 101: Pre-Flight Check – Fueling the Educator Before Takeoff

Before any successful flight, the pilot must complete a thorough pre-flight check—ensuring everything is fueled, balanced, and ready for the journey ahead. The same is true for educators. In this powerful and reflective session, participants will explore the importance of teacher wellness as the foundation for effective teaching, leadership, and classroom success. Through real-life scenarios, guided reflection, and practical strategies, educators will learn how to recognize the signs of burnout, reset their mindset, and implement sustainable self-care practices that support both personal well-being and professional performance.

JERLETHA MCDONALD

Child Care, Federal Funding, Policy & Advocacy: How It Works & Why It Matters:

Fasten your seatbelts and prepare for takeoff into the world of child care funding, policy, and advocacy! In this session, we'll navigate the complex airspace of federal funding streams, regulatory requirements, and policy initiatives that shape early childhood programs. Participants will explore how funding decisions are made, understand the flight path of policies that affect operations, and learn why advocacy is the co-pilot every program needs to ensure high-quality care and equitable access for all children. Through hands-on examples and interactive discussions, educators will leave with a clear flight plan for advocacy, practical strategies for navigating the policy skies, and tools to make informed, strategic decisions that keep their programs flying smoothly.

Designing an Eclectic Curriculum

Let's draw elements from some of the most impactful approaches to teaching and learning to create a tailor-made pedagogy. We'll consider Reggio-inspired and Montessori classrooms, as well as strategies from Charlotte Mason, Forest Schools, and Project Zero to weave together threads of learner-centered experiences to meet the cognitive, physical, and social-emotional needs of our children.

DR. DANNAE ORISAMOLADE & SHELLEY ROUSER FROM DELAWARE STATE UNIVERSITY

Opening Doors in Early Childhood Education: Pathways, Purpose, and Professional Growth

Early childhood educational opportunities should be accessible, meaningful, and economically sustainable. This session explores professional growth pathways for individuals interested in entering or advancing within the early childhood field.

Attendees will learn about Delaware State University's program designed for students, career changers, and working professionals seeking elevated qualification opportunities.

Topics will include:

- How the CDA can help you
- Career pathway development in early childhood education
- The value of early childhood credentials and degree completion
- Workforce accessibility through flexible program design
- Connecting passion for teaching with professional and economic opportunity

This session is appropriate for students, prospective program applicants, educators, and individuals exploring careers in early childhood education.

Wheels Up! Launching Early Childhood Leaders from Takeoff to Touchdown!

Take flight in this inspiring keynote as we explore how to cultivate leadership in early childhood education. From takeoff to touchdown, discover practical strategies, actionable insights, and leadership lessons that empower teachers to guide young learners, ignite curiosity, and build the next generation of confident, capable leaders.

ANNETTE EBERHART

Wellness Advocacy & Resilience for ECE Leaders and Teams

This session reframes wellness as a leadership responsibility through an advocacy lens, then moves into self-care that fits real schedules using small-practices and habit stacking. We'll put resilience into action with boundary scripts, workload triage, and a simple debrief routine for hard days, grounded in stories from the field drawn from Annette's lived experience running a 24-hour FCC and the Best Practices Unveiled platform, Authorship and the committees of service. After 35 minutes of immersed content, participants spend 5 minutes completing the conference workbook to craft 1-2 concrete implementation steps and list anticipated challenges. We close with 10 minutes of interactive coaching, where challenges are shared and tailored, peer-supported solutions are developed.

RAEYNA WOODSIDE HOWARD

C is for Collaboration: Getting Coaches and Educators on the Same Team

This interactive session explores the power of collaboration, showing how coaches and educators can work together to achieve a shared vision of excellence. Participants will learn practical strategies for establishing an in-center mentorship program—whether mentors are internal or external—focusing on how to gather meaningful feedback and use it to improve teaching practices. Attendees will leave with actionable tools to strengthen mentoring relationships, foster professional growth, and create a culture of continuous improvement within their centers.

RUTH BAUGH

Caring for the Caregiver: Sustaining Yourself While Supporting your Classroom

Teaching and leading in early childhood classrooms can be incredibly rewarding—but it can also be demanding and exhausting. This workshop focuses on strategies to support your own well-being while maintaining a strong, thriving classroom environment. Participants will explore practical self-care techniques, time management strategies, and ways to build resilience, all while fostering a positive and engaging space for children. By learning how to care for themselves, educators can model healthy habits, reduce burnout, and create a more balanced, joyful classroom experience for both staff and students.

KATE WOODWARD YOUNG AND CARRIE CASEY

Co-Pilots for Success Building Strong School-Family Partnerships

Children thrive when schools and families work together as true partners. This interactive workshop explores practical strategies for building meaningful, collaborative relationships with families that support children’s learning, development, and overall well-being. Participants will learn how to communicate effectively, foster trust, and create shared goals with families—becoming co-pilots in guiding each child toward success. Through reflection, discussion, and actionable tools, educators will leave equipped to strengthen connections, empower families, and create a supportive, inclusive school community where every child can soar.

SHANNON ESTIN

Seeing the World Through a Different Lens

Prepare for takeoff in this powerful, movement-filled workshop that challenges conventional approaches to special education and inclusion by celebrating the “superpowers” of diverse learners. Just as pilots navigate through changing skies using instruments and a clear flight plan, participants will navigate complex classroom dynamics through authentic storytelling, dynamic activities, and transformative discussions. Explore autism awareness, mental health, and culturally responsive teaching practices while learning how to create inclusive, supportive learning environments that allow every student and educator to soar.

Mastering the Art of the Pivot in Childcare

Working in childcare is always changing—no two days are ever the same. Life happens, challenges pop up, and plans don't always go the way we expect. But that's where the magic is. Learning to overcome obstacles and embrace the art of the pivot turns tough moments into growth opportunities. Stay flexible, stay focused, and keep showing up—because in childcare, your ability to adapt makes all the difference.

ARLETTE HIDALGO

Honor the language, see the child

In early childhood settings, bilingual children are often misunderstood and sometimes misidentified. "Honor the Language, See the Child" invites educators to shift their perspective—recognizing bilingualism as a strength, not a delay. Through real-life insights and practical strategies, this session focuses on inclusive practices, family partnerships, and the importance of respecting language and culture from the very beginning.
